Dr. David Chan, DMD AAACD

Achieve a Higher Level of Artistry with Anterior
Composites....Predictably!

David Chan earned his DMD degree in 1989 from Oregon Health Sciences University. He maintains a full-time practice focused on cosmetic and comprehensive dentistry located in Ridgefield, Washington.

David currently serves as the Past-President of the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, as director at the Center for Dental Artistry and a Clinical Instructor at the Kois Center in Seattle, Washington.

He is an Accredited member of the AACD and has been published widely in peer reviewed dental articles, including several articles in the prestigious "Journal of Cosmetic Dentistry".

In addition, David travels nationally/internationally giving lectures to dentists on comprehensive esthetic dental care and serves as a key opinion leader for multiple dental products companies.

Objectives:

- Learn details of shade selection, tints and opaquers.
- Learn how to create polychromatic composite restorations that emulate nature and rival porcelain.
- Learn a simple systematic workflow of composite contouring and polishing techniques to create exceptional anterior restorations that can match the best porcelain restorations or the beauty of natural teeth.
- How to predictably create the correct primary, secondary and tertiary anatomy with anterior composites that matches any human tooth morphology.
- The participants will witness these simple step by step processes demonstrated live on how these amazing results with composite resin can be obtainable by anyone.

Refund Policy: Refunds will be given 30 days prior to the course minus a $75.00 processing fee.
Course attendance earns 8 AGD CE lecture credit hours
